CorrespondentVATICAN CITY, Feb. 15.—Thirty-eight cardinals of the Roman Catholic church met today to draw up the first definite arrangements for the forthcoming conclave of the sacred college to elect a successor to Pope Pius XI.With the pontiff buried in a triple coffin in the crypt beneath the basilica of St. Peter's cathedral, still more European cardinals were converging upon the eternal city to take up their duties and participate in the election.

American Cardinals Enroute

At the same time, the forthcoming arrival of the two American cardinals who are abroad the Italian bishops—George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago and Denis Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia—was awaited with the keenest interest.William Cardinal O'Connell of Boston is due in Rome a little later than his two compatriots, but is expected to arrive in time for the election.It was indicated the three Americans may exercise a weight upon the choice of a new pope considerably beyond their numerical strength.Although the United States will have but three votes in the selection of a pontiff to succeed Pope Pius XI, it was learned a number of Italian cardinals are "especially anx-

Americans' view of such matters as the political leanings and religious background of the next pope.Date To Be Set OBSERVESIt is reported by a number of stores on the East Side that they had sold more valentines of various varieties, and chocolate valentine hearts and candy, than they had done for a number of years. This is a good omen, maybe folks are getting more cheerful and optimistic.The weather forecaster forgot to mention anything about the probability of rain or snow in yesterday's forecast and the downpour of rain, which started last evening, turning into snow during the night, turned out to be quite a sloppy surprise.At the local postoffice, quite a large amount of valentines of various sizes and shapes, were handled this year. The clerks had quite a task putting some of the valentines in the lock boxes, without damaging them.A question was received by the local public library reference department this week, inquiring as to when the large monument on the Public Square was erected.Today is the anniversary of the sinking of the Maine. This ship, belonging to the United States was sunk on February 15, 1898.Holes and ruts in East and West Washington street, were repaired

Tuesday by workmen from the state highway department.On Tuesday, a youngster of about five years of age, was tempting fate on Albert street, near Euclid avenue, and also giving auto drivers the shivers. He was riding a tricycle.

BE RETURNED TO COUNTIES(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—Return of state relief to the individual counties with anticipated savings of $10,000,000 biennially was recommended today by Republican legislative leaders.The proposal to return to the old poor board system, abolished by the Earle administration, was developed at a joint meeting of the house and senate welfare committees.Actual grants for state relief would be paid by the commonwealth, while the administrative expenses would be provided by the counties, according to the plan.
Complete details were to be made known by Secretary of Public Assistance Howard T. Russell.

By County Boards

Disbursement of relief by counties would result in the merger of the unemployment compensation bureau with the assistance department, it was expected. Relief monies would be distributed by county boards of five, two to be appointed by the governor, two by the courts, and one by the county commissioners.Need for additional economy in government was emphasized in estimates given the legislators by Gov.

Arthur H. James' budget advisors, indicating a possible decline of $25-300,000 in state revenues during the 1939-41 biennium.Committee members were advised that they could look for a net decrease of $11,161,084 from the $224-295,805 which normal levies were expected to yield during the next two years. It was estimated that the LONDON, Feb. 15.—The British government 'still has under consideration' the question of granting official recognition to the Spanish insurgent regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain declared in the House of Commons today.

Chamberlain's statement was interpreted in the lobbies of the house as meaning that the cabinet has undoubtedly decided at least in principle on the recognition of General Franco, but that the prime minister considers the time not yet ripe for any public announcement.No formal announcement will be made until the Spanish situation is deemed more stable, but it was admitted on every hand in Whitehall that de jure and de facto recognition of Franco as the ruler of Spain will be achieved eventually and are merely a "matter of time".
The main task, it was said, is to "educate" by gradual means British

"inevitability" of such recognition.Execute Missouri

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Speculation in the capital on the possible successor to Associate Justice Louis D. Brandeis of the U. S. supreme court centered today on nine men, three of them prominent in the New Deal.Although most observers believe that President Roosevelt will go West for his fourth appointee to the highest court, geographical considerations may again be put aside.
Like President Hoover, Mr. Roosevelt has ignored the tradition of choosing court justices from certain sections of the country.When Prof. Felix Frankfurter of Harvard university, was elevated to the court recently, the president passed up the West which has had little representation on the supreme court in recent years.

Possible Selection

Added to the list of possible appointees to the court today was William O. Douglas, chairman of the Securities and Exchange commission and former professor of law at Yale university. Although an easterner by adoption, Douglas was born and educated in the state of Washington.Chairman Douglas has a long conference with President Roosevelt yesterday, the day following the announcement of venerable Justice Brandeis' retirement.Other New Dealers considered possibilities are Attorney General Frank Murphy, former governor of Michigan, and Solicitor-General
Robert H. Jackson, a New Yorker.

south of San Francisco, the American-Hawaiian line freighter Vir-

San Francisco bay today under con-the vessel's No. 2 hold when, while steaming cautiously through a curtain of dense fog, the Virginian collided six miles off shore with the Associated Oil tanker Solana.No mention of injuries to crew members was contained in advices to the coast guard. Each vessel carries a crew of about 40. No passengers were aboard.The Solana apparently was damaged severely, but her stem and forepeak were splintered. The tanker also proceeded to San Francisco, after standing by the Virginian unofficially revealed, in reply to a dip-attention to reports of heavy re-

HOTEL AT MIAMI BEACH

(International News Service)

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 15.— Six bandits, armed with two submachine guns and six revolvers, held up the swanky Blackstone Hotel in Miami Beach just before dawn today and after tying up the clerk, two Negroes and four guests broke open twelve of the 100 safety deposit boxes, which were reserved for hotel guests.The amount of loot obtained was estimated at $100,000 and consisted of both cash and jewels.It was almost an hour before the alarm could be sounded, but an intense search for the criminals was launched immediately by city and state authorities and the coast guard.All causeways to the mainland were barricaded, as were south Florida highways, and officers were stopping all cars. The coast guard sent out a patrol boat to check all waterfront spots.

It was believed, however, the bandits fled in an expensive automobile stolen in Miami Beach only a short time before the holdup.The six bandits swarmed into the hotel at 4:20 a. m., and the night clerk, John L. Copperwaite, and a Negro bell hop and Negro elevator operator were quickly bound with adhesive tape.The bandits immediately went to work on the safety deposit boxes on the main floor. Four guests, who came in while the bandits were working, also were tied up with adhesive tape. Names of the guests were not revealed.The bandits worked for 40 minutes and then fled. They apparently knew which boxes they wanted.

Instead of opening them at random,
they carefully picked out the boxes to be forced open, it was said.By the time the seven persons, who had been tied up, were able to free themselves and notify police, the trail of the bandits had been lost.Mrs. Wilson Suggested

Striking with his old-time fury, Senator Hiram W.
Johnson (R) of California,
today broke open the congressional controversy over the administration's foreign relations policy with a sharp attack upon "bluffing countries we don't like."His criticism of the secrecy of the senate military affairs committee in its hearings on national defense and foreign relations, as well as the private conferences held by President Roosevelt with some senators, came as the committee again met behind closed doors.

Ridiculous Situation

"It's ridiculous that the hands of U. S. senators should be tied and their mouths closed," Johnson stated in an interview. "It's worse than ridiculous that the people as a lieved that of the Marine Airways plane which vanished Sunday afternoon with six persons aboard, had Alaskan "mercy pilot," who has been aiding in the hunt for the transport, radioed from his plane that he saw a mass of unidentified debris bobbing in the surf near the point.

Faint Hope Held

Some faint hope was still held that Pilot Alonzo Cope of the missing transport and his five passengers may be alive, although an ominous oil slick was discovered by searching boats near the plane's last reported position in Stephens Passage, 15 miles south of Juneau. The hope was based on receipt by the airline's local radio office of intermittent, feeble signals on the lost ship's radio frequency. The signals were unintelligible.The last message received from the plane at 1:20 p. m. Sunday as it was bound from Ketchikan to

PROGRAM-TEA FEATURE LADIES OF LIONS MEET

Ladies of the Lions Club, enjoyed the delightful hospitality extended in the home of Mrs. T. M. Shaffer on Tuesday evening. A short business discussion opened activities.

Mrs. U. A. Leivo introduced the chairman of the program, Mrs. A. H. Borland, who presented the following entertainment. The first feature, was pertinent to the commemoration of Washington's birthday when musical selections, well known as "loved by Washington," were given. In a duet, Mrs. B. M. Rogers and Mrs. John Walter, with Mrs. William Rice, accompanist, sang "Wayward Traveler" from Arnold's opera "The Mountaineer," and a second selection, "The Bud of The Rose" from Shields opera "Rosina" was sung as a solo number by Mrs. Burr M. Rogers with Mrs. Rice, accompanist.

Afterwards, Betty Reed gave two selected readings from William Cullen Bryant, entitled "Washington" and "America," two lovely tributes to a national hero and his country.

Bringing the evening to a close, Mrs. Borland gave a resume of a short story by Howard Fast, known as "A Man's Wife" which was a portrait of Mrs. Washington, as well as an insight into the more human and intimate nature of Washington, the man.

The social part of the evening, was rounded out in Colonial fashion, with tea being served from an especially attractively arranged table. The valentine motif predominated, and red and white was the theme throughout. Mrs. R. L. Boyd, president, presided, and she was aided by the following social committee members: Mrs. H. H. Thayer, Mrs. John Walter, Mrs. J. B. Waddington and Mrs. J. E. Peacock.

During the evening, two new members, Mrs. Harvey Bush and Mrs. William Rice, were welcomed into the organization.

On March 14, the club will meet for a tureen luncheon, with Mrs. C. J. Streib on Delaware avenue, hostess. Mrs. T. I. Elliott will be chairman of the program on this date.

BERT STEVENSON IS DEPARTMENT SPEAKER

Bert Stevenson was the guest speaker at the American Home and Citizenship Department meeting of Woman's club, held in the home of Mrs. E. L. Thompson, Euclid avenue, on Tuesday afternoon. "Porto Rico" was the subject of Mr. Stevenson's address and he told of the occupations, society and education there. An interesting fact is that both Spanish and English are spoken there and that they are becoming more and more Americanized in their habits and customs.

Mrs. Gayle Blim read a most interesting article on "The Romance of a Light Bulb."

Following an exchange of valentines, tea was served with Mrs. Arthur Foster presiding. Valentine appointments predominated.

The committee in charge included Mrs. H. W. French, Mrs. L. W. Platt, Mrs. George Ralph, Mrs. C. R. Ralph, Mrs. Joel McKee and Miss Nettie Clark.

Mrs. Ernest Withers was a special guest.

A. U. R. SOCIETY DINNER MEETING

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

FRIENDLINESS OF TEACHER NEEDED

Yesterday we considered the tragic loss to personality and mental health of the growing child through mental illness of some adult, especially the parent, in his home. You were reminded that there are about as many people in our nation who are mentally ill as the number who are physically ill, and that at the present rate, a million of our children now in the public schools will break mentally during their lifetime.

Now I want to tell you of the roundtable on "Mental Health and Education," put on by the Section on Education at the recent annual meeting, at Richmond, Va., of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

We had only two formal papers, each limited to seven minutes, but the session was two hours in length. Practically all present made informal contributions. I wish you might have been there to participate.

Both Authorities
These two brief papers were, I believe, by the two outstanding authorities in the field of mental health and education—Dr. W. Carson Ryan, of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, and president of the National Progressive Education Association, and Prof. Percival M. Symonds, of Teachers College, Columbia University. Respectively, they have written the best books in the field: "Mental Health through Education" (Ryan) and "Mental Health of the School Child" (Symonds). I hope you read these books, and try to help save some of our children from the human scrap heap.

Dr. Ryan turned our attention to the need of friendliness in the classroom, stressing, as I have been for years in this column, though in more forceful language than mine, the importance of a sympathetic, understanding and considerate attitude of the teacher toward the child. Dr. Symonds, on the basis of his researches, reminded us that the teacher becomes a kind of substitute parent and that how well the child adapts himself at school depends on the way he is treated at home.

Bridging Gulf
The discussion naturally led to consideration of ways and means of bridging the gulf between the home and school and the need of more friendliness between teacher and parent, to the end that parent-child relationships within the family might help further pupil-teacher relationships and vice-versa.

It seems to me significant that scientific leaders in education should center their attention on mental health; also that local, state and national institutes and conventions of teachers are giving increased time to this subject.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A "GOOD NEIGHBOR"

President Roosevelt has talked in season and out, during the last six years, about the necessity of this Nation being a "Good Neighbor." What is a "Good Neighbor"? A good neighbor is generally supposed to be one who is not continually meddling into your private affairs. A good neighbor does not tell you how to run your business. He does not criticize you if you happen to have a little different habit from his own. A good neighbor is generally one who assists you in trouble and naturally expects a little assistance when he is in trouble. A good neighbor does not borrow from you with no idea of repaying his borrowings. Neither does he buy that which you have to sell and forget to pay for it.

Now the Administration in Washington indicates that the President has resurrected Woodrow Wilson's idea of making the world "Safe for Democracy" and it would seem that the President has revived his ideas concerning a "Good Neighbor," and simply wants to be a good neighbor to England and France whose governments, he sees fit at the present time to consider worthwhile Democracies. He seems to withdraw his good neighborliness entirely from the Governments of Germany, Italy and Russia. He does not seem very friendly either to the Government which will undoubtedly soon be established as the stable Spanish government. In other words, the President seems bent on meddling into the governmental affairs of all Nations and in the manner in which the business of some of these nations is conducted does not suit his ideas of a Democracy, it is "out with their heads."

There is a good deal of talk now about the beauties of a Democracy. What is a Democracy? Literally translated, it is the rule of the Mob. Nearly every man and woman in this Nation of ours more than twenty-one years of age has the right of suffrage. It is not a question of whether they contribute to the expenses of the Government in which they have a voice; it is simply a question of whether they are native or naturalized citizens of more than twenty-one years of age. And so it has resulted that we have at every election, a great mass of votes which are counted and which emanate

After looking over the kind of hats some women wear, it is easy to understand how they pick out such atrocious neckties for Christmas and birthday presents.

Tennis Champion Don Budge is said to have turned pro for $75,000 a year. That's probably the net figure.

WANTED A REPORT
One of the inmates of a certain prison was called into the governor's office.

"You were sent here, I believe for writing a glowing prospectus for an oil company," said the governor.
"Yes," said the prisoner; "I was a little too optimistic."
"Well," went on the governor; "the authorities want a report on conditions in this prison. I've decided to let you write it."

A high school student, who had been reading the paper, asked his father if the word "Hon." applied to a member of congress, was an abbreviation of "Honest."

Scientists are working on a meter which will measure the intensity of odors. We have run into polio clouds that fairly made us weep, and would probably bust the machine altogether.

It is said that there is only one closet in President Roosevelt's Hyde Park "dream cottage." The president evidently didn't make any allowance for skeletons.

DIDN'T DARE TO
In the days when men wore long beards, a certain Old Timer around town here, was allowed to go to play poker twice a month by his wife, while she had a party of lady friends in. One night O. T. came home while the women folks were still there, his whiskers loaded with tobacco juice.

"Dear me, John, couldn't you turn your head to spit?"
"Nope, not in that game," was the reply.

One sure way to meet up with a state highway patrolman is just to leave your driver's license at home.

One of the best jokes we have heard in a long time, and told by a local attorney, too:

A newcomer to a city who asked a native if there was a criminal lawyer in town, was told, "We think there is, but we've been unable to convict him."

We would give the rest of the menu, but anyone who has waded through a stack of flapjacks, that would melt in your mouth, on a crisp winter morning, would know that we had gone far enough.

The only ones we have heard who are not disturbed about the fighting in Spain are the bulls. The matadors are so busy chasing each other that they have to leave the bulls in the pastures.

Amle's Words Stir Up Argument
Opponents Say He's Democracy Enemy
Claims Capitalism Is Breaking Down

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 15.

From nothing that I can discover has Thomas R. Amle, President Roosevelt's first choice for a seat on the Interstate Commerce commission, expressed himself as an enemy of democracy, the charge immediately brought against him by opponents of his senatorial confirmation as an ICC appointee.

He has said, indeed, that he thinks "the old economic order (capitalism) is breaking down."

But that does not necessarily mean that he is GLAD to believe it to be breaking down. Maybe he means he's AFRAID that it's breaking down. Some of its best friends are AFRAID. Good gosh! What do such folk as Congressman "Ham" Fish, Representative Martin Dies and other ultra-conservatives indicate but that they're scared, too?

Can't Amle agree with them without being suspected of red sympathies?

Back in 1929
Shortly after the 1929 slump had started to sink in, the question began to be asked, "Doesn't this thing have a Fascist threat?"

At that stage of the game Hitler was not noticeable. Mussolini, however, already was registering. Apparently he was developing a certain sort of order out of chaos in Italy. On trolley cars and street corners one heard the query put, "Wouldn't a dictatorship be a good thing in this country likewise?"

It was noticeable enough to have stimulated me to ask a number of outstanding Americans how much they thought it amounted to. They replied that they did not consider it a foolish question.

Said Senator Henrik Shipstead, "If we want to transform America into a despotism, let us consult Benito Mussolini."

Said Senator Burton K. Wheeler, "We've got Fascism. If they can get away with it, but I don't believe they can do it."

Said Senator Marvel M. Logan, "A dictatorship has to start with a POPULAR dictator, and the candidate we have got now is not popular. (President Hoover). The time is ripe—but the individual is not available."

That was the general verdict. Somewhat Apprehensive
These chaps were (and are) democrats. Still, they were (and are) apprehensive. That did not imply that they were (or are) anti-democratic.

That which I think of now as you is made of all the deeds you do; Your home, your garden and the things To which always your spirit clings: Your loves, your hates, your hopes and fears, And all the fruitage of the years.

That which I hope lives here as I Is not the stuff we know must die. But something done, or something said; In spring a flowering tulip bed And whose's I've trod the earth Some little evidence of birth.

Life is to feel and sense and share As, has been said: "To be aware!" And death, is wood and stone and steel. And ash at last that cannot feel. But what was truly you and I Outlives the flesh that has to die.

The Human Side Of The News
(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1939 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Echoes of the fantastically incredible Coester swindle—the financial double and triple-dealing of the ex-convict who became head of a $100,000,000 century-old chemical supplies firm, only to crash and put a bullet through his own brain—still reverberate in the news.

He was one of several "men of straw," as the biographer, Henry P. Pringle, called them in an article of his written for Hearst's Cosmopolitan Magazine some years ago. Admired, as he was, for his criminalities, he was a mere child compared to the two giants of fraud who sailed across the financial firmament only to disappear in an ocean of ignominy.

I am thinking now of the Belgian, Alfred Loewenstein, and of the Swede, Ivar Krueger, kings respectively of swindles and matches. Both began as poor boys, driven forward by a burning ambition of a wealth and power, and when, as Mr. Pringle wrote, they had achieved both they did not know how to stop and rest and enjoy the fruits of their remarkable achievements.

In each there was a twisted streak which, like base metal, deflected the compass of their honor. Each fell a prey to the illusion and delusion of grandeur. In Barcelona, some 12 years ago, I saw Alfred Loewenstein arrive over the sky lanes with a staff of 30, in a fleet of a dozen planes—an imperial approach. That was the way he operated. Whole floors at de luxe hotels, Magnams of champagne only. Huge motor cars in waiting in every capital of Europe.

In 1925, the French government made private inquiries regarding his general reliability. Loewenstein invited the officials to his Biarritz estate when word of this came to his ears. They were transported from Paris in airplanes and special trains. Vaudeville artists, singers and pugilists were engaged for their entertainment. Loewenstein was vague, however, when specific questions were asked. He went on floating enormous loans, millions of dollars at a time, and sinking the case in electric power, banks, railroads, artificial silk.

By 1928, he was supposed to be worth $100,000,000. Short, heavy-set, dark, broad-shouldered, a physical fitness almost a mania, the Belgian enjoyed everything that money could buy, and his mode of life became flashy in the extreme. He patronized the best tailors, and his suits were dark, well-cut and conservative enough. But he had a weakness for vivid cravats and he wore striped colored shirts with a striped stiff collar of the same material. But powerful as he was and rich as he was, the aristocrats of Europe snubbed him relentlessly.

Then came the end, on July 4, 1928. Loewenstein's private plane took the air at Croydon airport for Brussels. With him were Captain Ronald Drew, the pilot, two women secretaries, a mechanic and Baxter, the valet. None of these five individuals noticed anything unusual in Loewenstein's conduct. The ship took the air. For once Loewenstein did not work as he traveled. He read a book. The plane dived on at about four thousand feet toward the French coast, and soon the Dunkirk sands were in sight. At about this time the Belgian arose and went back toward a compartment he on the ship.

When, after 15 minutes, he had

Thomas M. Geary Fired For Allegedly Being Drunk Driver, Struck Two Autos

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 15.—Thomas M. Geary, Pittsburgh police magistrate and Democratic leader of the second ward, was fired today by Mayor Cornelius D. Scully a short time after he denied charges that he had been drinking or had been operating a car the night it struck two other machines.

Geary was accused at a previous hearing of being behind the wheel of the machine, but Daniel A. Verona, son of the late hill district politician, claimed he was driving and Geary was only a passenger.

Suspended since last week when the case suddenly flared into print, Geary was dismissed summarily today by Mayor Scully. The mayor's secretary announced: "Mr. Geary will be dismissed effective at the close of business today. He will receive his notice by letter."

Mayor Scully, after suspending Geary last week, announced he ordered a private investigator to look into the case and that he would act on his report.

French Air Mission Purchases 600 Planes And Sails For Home

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Denying that the official French air mission, whose presence in this country precipitated sharp debate in congress, had obtained secret American military secrets, the French embassy today announced the mission had purchased a minimum of 600 American war planes and had sailed for home.

Col. Rene P. G. Weiser, air attaché at the French embassy, said the contracts had been made with the Douglas, Curtis-Wright, Glenn L. Martin and North American companies. No details on the size of the order given each company, costs and delivery dates were given. Some aircraft officials estimated the order might total more than $15,000,000.

Guam Proposal Gets Approval Of Committee

Would Authorize $5,000,000 For Improvement Of Aviation Facilities

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The house naval affairs committee today approved legislation authorizing a $5,000,000 program to improve aviation facilities on the Pacific island of Guam, as the house itself advanced first phase of President Roosevelt's $552,000,000 rearmament program toward passage.

The action of the naval affairs committee on the disputed "fortification" of Guam was taken by a 14 to 5 vote, Republican members alone casting the dissenting votes.

The improvements at Guam, lying near Japanese-controlled islands and only 1,400 miles from Tokyo, drew opposition from members of congress on the ground that it was far from the sphere of American defense. Naval experts supported the proposed new facilities on the island.

At the same time, the naval affairs committee approved provisions which would authorize establishment of ten new naval air bases in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans at a cost of $45,000,000.

It also took steps that may increase the total authorized cost of the legislation from the original $65,000,000 sought by President Roosevelt, to $68,400,000. This action, embracing provisions for establishment of a $1,000,000 air station at Tongue Point, Oregon, $1,800,000 in additional laboratories at the naval aircraft factory, Philadelphia, and $100,000 for additional landing facilities at Hampton Roads, Va., is subject to final approval by the committee tomorrow.

Franco's Forces Believed Marking Time Waiting For Government To Agree To Truce

(International News Service)
MADRID, Spain, Feb. 15.—Save for intermittent artillery shelling, the Madrid front was quiet today as Generalissimo Francisco Franco's insurgent forces apparently marked time in the belief the government might agree to a truce.

No special military activity was reported along the entire central Spanish front, where the government of Premier Juan Negrin appears determined to make another stand against the insurgents.

Negrin and Foreign Minister Julio Alvarez Del Vayo returned to Madrid after a tour of inspection of nearby war fronts.

(Advices from Saragossa said Franco is massing large forces which participated in the conquest of Catalonia for a drive against Madrid. Long columns of troops were reported moving to the south out of the Catalonia area.)

from a mob of people who are, many of them morons, having the intelligence, possibly, of a fourteen-year old boy or girl. The Mob is lead by those whom we call demagogues—leaders of "democracies." If you will, whose shibboleth at this time seems only to be—"soak the rich and pay us enough on which to live well, whether we work or not."

We have two great political parties in this country—the Democratic and the Republican Party. The Nation has now arrived at the crossroads, and it is to be seen whether or not the canker of this shibboleth has not extended into the ranks of the Republican Party. It is to be feared lest even should the Republican Party be successful in electing the next President, whether or not that President and his party would not pursue the same unprincipled principles. The demagogues have learned how they, in turn, can obtain a great constituency by soaking the rich. It looks now as though such Bureau as the WPA, the PWA and the AAA would be perennially fastened about the taxpayers' necks, whether the Government was dominated by the Democratic Party or the Republican Party. These emergency measures. It looks as though they would become permanent. Great buildings are being built in large cities all over the country to house the administrators of these Bureaus; particularly, the PWA and the WPA.

There is a necessity of an about-face in politics. There is a necessity of providing some sort of a tax upon the voter that the voter will have to pay in order to vote; if he wants to cast his vote, he should pay a tax. There is the necessity that the Conservative of this Nation arouse themselves and do away with all of these Bureaus; of going back to the principles upon which this Republic was founded. This Nation was not founded by the great men of the Eighteenth Century as a Democracy. It was founded as a Republic and there is a vast difference between a Democracy and a Republic.

The Human Side Of The News

not returned, Baxter, the valet, became alarmed. He found that his employer had vanished; that the door of the plane was open. Baxter rushed to the glass partition which separated the pilot's cabin from the rest of the plane. He could not make himself heard above the roar of the engines at first. It wasn't until July 19 that Lowenstein's body was found floating in the channel. Identification was established by means of a wrist watch and through dental work. Lowenstein was really dead. Did he kill himself? A coroner's board in Paris gave an official verdict of suicide. It can hardly be denied that he faced an enormous shrinkage of his personal fortune and serious and permanent loss of prestige. On the other hand, how could he have tossed himself from the plane? The ship was taken up by experts on the next day. They found it almost impossible to open the door while the plane was flying. Two mechanics pushed against it in vain; the rush of air past the ship held the door tightly shut. It will probably always remain a mystery.

Another "man of straw" I knew well—Ivar Krueger. At 20, timid, shy, unimpressive, he came to this country with only $100 in his pocket. Yet within a dozen years he was able to seize control of the match industry of the world. He owned railroads, steamship lines, banks, hotels, mines. He loaned millions to European governments in return for match monopolies. This tall, erect, silent, pale-faced Swede trod the world like a giant.

He became a legend while he was still alive. He never carried less than $50,000 in his pockets. He fascinated and hypnotized hard-boiled bankers all over the world. And he had the world at his feet. But, like Coster, it was not in him to go straight. He committed outright forgeries for millions of dollars when his financial ship began to sink. And then, when the bankers called him to an accounting, he went out in the street in Paris, bought a pistol and, like Coster, put a bullet through his brain.

World's Fair Court Would Accommodate Visitors From Afar

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—A new high in solicitude for world's fair visitors was reached today with announcement that a special court was being established to give speedy trials immediately to those who inadvertently or otherwise break the laws while at the fair.

Normally, persons arrested in June might have to wait as long as October for trial and if living out of state the state might be forced to make a return trip. Fair ground quarters were being sought for the new court.

Alligators and crocodiles really are different. The alligator has a blunter snout and a broader, shorter head than the crocodile. The alligator has not so many webs on the toes as a crocodile, the jagged fringe on the hind legs of the crocodile are absent on the alligator. There is also a slight difference in the teeth of the two creatures.

Mock Trial Of Legion Members Entertains Post

Initiation Service Planned For
New Members Coming Into Post

Last evening's meeting of the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, was enlivened by a mock trial, when Ivor V. Davis and Ches C. Sweeney were brought to trial on a myriad of charges before Judge William J. Caldwell, with Attorney J. Glenn Berry serving as district attorney and Bart Richards as counsel for the defense.

The proceedings were highly unusual, too say the least, and during the course of the trial, uncertain as to who was the real culprit, Alex Thomas, was seized by Officers Bill Alliger and Bob Hanna, and Constable Frank Conner's handcuffs were affixed to his wrists. Alderman James C. Brice was clerk of courts, and Frank Conner served as sheriff.

Because of the banquet for district Legion posts at Sharon on February 28, the post voted to dispense with the meeting on this date, and will not convene again until March 14, when new members of the post, some 90 in number, will be formally initiated by the post's degree team.

The post is now over the top in membership and are planning to further increase the membership during the remainder of the membership campaign.

The choruses for the test are—"The Martyrs of the Arena" by L. deRille, and "Hymn to the Night" by Rhyll Ford.

It is expected that a mixed chorus, conducted by William Richards, and the Brahms Ladies Chorus, directed by David W. Rees, will compete at the Eisteddfod, in their respective divisions.

There was the little fellow on North Liberty street Tuesday afternoon, who just couldn't wait until he had delivered the three ice cream cones and he was seen carefully tasting each one, while walking along the street.

One of the biggest games for the Mahoning Junior High school basketball team is scheduled for Thursday. The ward team will meet the Washington Junior High school team on the Washington floor on that day, according to Austin Cowmeadow, coach and instructor.

Spencer Tracy To Make Long Address In Film

By MILTON HARKER
(Copyright, 1939)
(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 15.—Spencer Tracy, who's about as gossipy as a cat in private life, makes one of the longest addresses in film history in his latest picture, "Stanley and Livingstone" at 20th Century-Fox.

The speech runs 412 words about the same length as Paul Muni's famous trial plea in "The Life of Emile Zola." In his picture, Tracy will be on trial on charges of the Royal Geographical Society of England that he had perpetrated a scientific fraud. Tracy is portraying the New York Herald reporter, Henry M. Stanley, who found Dr. David Livingstone in Africa after the explorer had been missing four years. According to the studio, the trial is historically accurate.

The length of the speech is in itself a tribute to Tracy's acting ability. Only first-class performers can deliver a long oration and make it believable. Spencer's ability won him the Motion Picture Academy Award last year for "Captains Courageous" and one of this year's five nominations for "Boys Town." The average length of a motion picture oration is from 75 to 100 words. Very few actors can hold an audience's attention with more than 250 words.

Tracy will give the speech very rapidly, about 140 words a minute, so the scene can be completed within three minutes.

Director Norman Foster is putting something new in the way of long scenes into "Charlie Chan in Reno," the first of the series to which he has been assigned.

Detective stories as a rule are chopped up into very short scenes. Foster is using Sidney Toler, Pauline Moore, Kane Richmond, Ricardo Cortez, Phyllis Brooks and other members of the cast in scenes running up to three and a half minutes. He's doing it by merely panning the camera from one speaker to another.

Foster believes the public will catch the threads of an involved plot much easier in this fashion rather than by jumping from one scene to another. It sounds good.

A real African chant, done from an orchestrated score, will be heard in the movies for the first time in M-G-M's "Tarzan In Exile."

The score is the work of Dr. William Axt, head of the studio's music department. He completed it eight years ago with Riano, a Swahili warrior who came here for "Trader Horn." Riano chanted for hours while the musicians made notes.

Dr. Axt required six weeks to put the notes in sheet music form and by this time "Trader Horn" was completed. So Dr. Axt filed the music away.

When he was asked to do the score for the new Tarzan picture, he saw a ceremonial torture dance as an ideal spot for Riano's chant. It is something to hear.

Harry K. Thaw
Abandons Gayety

Man Who Shot Famous New York Architect Seeks Quietude

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—Night life under three bright lights. . . . Gay parties for beautiful women that climax in newspaper headlines.

They're over for Harry K. Thaw. The man who created a long-enduring sensation by shooting Stanford White, noted architect, in Madison Square Garden roof garden in 1908 is here for the winter seeking peace and quiet.

He's inclined to just sit by the fireside and talk politics and international affairs. He is shunning movie studios and night clubs. He wanted to see Santa Anita and has—just once from his automobile as he drove along Pothill boulevard. And that, he says, is why he came back to California—for a chance to "drive for hours on country roads away from traffic."

"It's lots more interesting than just looking for a good time," he said. "I'm past that now."

The Thaw trial for the shooting of White was the beginning of a fight for his freedom that lasted years. A jury declared him insane at the time he killed the architect in a jealous rage over the latter's association with beautiful Evelyn Nesbit, whom Thaw married in 1906. It was not until 1925 that he was set free by another jury verdict declaring him sane.

Progress At New Library Is Shown

Since moving into the new library building, large gains have been made in both circulation and registration, according to a report furnished the board of trustees of the library by Miss Alice Sterling, librarian.

The report, covering the activities of 1938 for the institution, showed that circulation figures at the main library jumped for a gain of 29 per cent. This is the largest gain made since 1931, it was learned.

Various branches of the library were represented with the following percentages: Mahoningtown branch gained 22 per cent; southside branch gained 10 per cent, while east side branch lost 1 per cent. The gains at the main library were recorded, despite the fact that the library service was suspended 44 days during moving and remodeling.

In the financial report of the library, furnished by the treasurer, Clarence A. Patterson, it was learned that the library now has a balance of $4,675.02, to carry them through the remainder of the fiscal period.

Annual salaries at the library were reported at the sum of $12,855.41, and the total expenditures reached the figure of $41,359.78. Total receipts for the year at the library here, $45,990.34.

Total books loaned out by the library during 1938 for home use totaled 262,384. New borrowers who registered during 1938 numbered 3,124, bringing the grand total of all library members up to 13,855. This means that 28 per cent of the population of the city is registered at the library.

There were 5,011 new books added to the library during 1938, making a total in the library of 49,915 volumes at the present time.

Director Resigns From
"Gone With The Wind"

(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 15.—Now that the role of Scarlett O'Hara has been filled for "Gone With The Wind," a task that took more than two years, Producer David O. Selznick was looking about in Hollywood today for a new director.

George Cukor, noted director, who has been associated with the picture almost from the beginning, has withdrawn. It was announced by Selznick and Cukor.

Cukor and Selznick jointly stated: "As a result of a series of disagreements between us over many of the individual scenes of 'Gone With The Wind,' we have mutually decided that the only solution is for a new director to be selected as early a date as is practicable."

Both pointed out that there were no personal differences in making the picture.

"It is just that we do not see the individual scenes the same way," Selznick said. "George has been very kind and generous and has agreed to remain with us until I can find a suitable director to replace him. It was his suggestion that he withdraw, because we do not think alike and our views are entirely opposite."

In discussing the situation, Cukor said: "I have only the most affectionate regard for Mr. Selznick, but I cannot see eye to eye with him, and I feel that I cannot go on and direct the script as it stands."

The picture, starring Vivian Leigh, Clark Gable, Leslie Howard, Olivia De Havilland and Laura Hope Crews, went into production three weeks ago.

In order that both children and adults may see it, there will be two performances, one in the afternoon of February 28, and one in the evening. Both performances will be in the Benjamin Franklin Junior high school.

As a resident of New Castle, Mr. Williams was the baritone soloist of the Apollo club and also appeared in many musical productions here. His wife, Miss Selee, is a mezzo-soprano of ability.

(Copyright 1938, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

BABY'S UNTREATED COLD
HOLDS DANGER OF DRAS-TIC ILLNESS

We have already discussed the fact that when your baby contracts a cold, there is nearly always an associated upset of his digestive system, with subsequent refusal of food, vomiting and diarrhea. When this happens it is very apparent that something must be done to make up for that which is lost; this is done by reducing the strength of each feeding and giving it more often.

If you are breast-feeding your child, you may say, and quite properly, "How can I reduce the strength of the feeding when I am nursing my child?" Well, to be perfectly truthful, you can't. What you can do, however, to attain the same result, it to nurse him for only two or three minutes at a time. Then give him some other fluid to make up the extra amount he needs.

If the baby is bottle-fed, the task is quite simple. All you do is reduce the amount of milk in the formula by half and increase the water by the same volume. With the breast or artificial food reduced in this way, the baby should be given some other fluid to make up for the deficiency. For this you may use boiled water. Sometimes it is wise to add a little sugar to the water, and this can be given to the sick youngster in small quantities at half-hour intervals during the time he is awake.

When your child shows symptoms of a cold, the wise move is to call your doctor to supervise the treatment. Remember that a baby isn't as well equipped to put up a fight against infection as an adult, so give him every assistance you can.

Another reason for calling your doctor is that he can be on the watch for complications which are quite likely to occur and which, if you are doing your own doctoring, may pass your inspection unnoticed.

until some permanent harm has been done to your baby's delicate system.

I know of adults of my own acquaintance who are deaf in one ear, or who have chronic ear trouble to this day, all because when they were babies their parents thought it wasn't necessary to call a doctor just because the baby had a cold. I have seen others who have had to undergo a series of delicate operations to remove dead bone that first became infected when, as babies, they weren't given the attention they should have had when their first cold came along. Such operations are dangerous, too, for it always takes several of them to get rid of dead bone, and all the time the surgeon is working he is dangerously close to the brain.

Permanent deafness, even death from brain infection, is sometimes the price paid for a neglected cold in babyhood; it is up to the mothers of the country to see that their children escape these penalties.

As most of you know, there is a tube which passes from the back of the throat to the ear. When infection is present in the throat, it passes up this tube to the ear. Once in the ear this infection produces pus. This increases in amount until it ruptures the eardrum and the ear discharges pus.

The four youths, Frankie Moran, Dub Grimm, Joe Marino and Howard Prengel were arrested during a basketball game in Shenango high school. Justice of the Peace John T. Brinton said the boys were creating a commotion outside and were asked to quit it. Constable Waddington was called. Mr. Brinton said, and warned the boys to desist.
Finally Waddington arrested them after County Detective Paul A. Welsh had been called and Mr. Brinton fined them $5 and costs or ten days in the county jail. Prengel was released after two days but the other three are still in.

How Women
in Their 40's
Can Attract Men

Here's good advice for a woman during her change (usually from 38 to 52), who fears she'll lose her appeal to men, who worries about hot flashes, loss of pep, dizzy spells, upset nerves and moody spells. Just get more fresh air, 8 hrs. sleep and if you need a reliable "WOMAN'S" tonic take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women. It helps Nature build up physical resistance, thus helps give more vivacity to enjoy life and assist calming jittery nerves and those disturbing symptoms that often accompany change of life. Pinkham's is WELL WORTH trying.

What the total amount of the claim to the bonding company will be, is not known but it is said that the total return to the county in defalcations made good will run over $20,000. In addition, due to the tax lien notices sent out during the audit, upwards of $75,000 have been turned in to the county.

There will be some work necessary about two weeks after the accountants leave. Verifications of tax liens must be made for it has been discovered that many taxpayers have improper receipts. This will probably result in additional sums of money being recovered by the county.

It is said that when the final reports are made, which in turn will be made public, the taxpayers will be satisfied with the money recovered. "All shortages, whether they have been made good or not will be shown on our report to the public" said the three county commissioners.

Declares Prosperity Depends Upon Attitude Of Administration

Industry Needs Encouragement

Senator George Calls For Government Cooperation With Industry

PROSPEROUS ERA NEAR, HE BELIEVES

By ROBERT S. MCGILL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Declaring private industry stands ready to create an era of prosperity, Senator George (D) Georgia, today called for government cooperation to start idle wheels turning.

George predicted a return to prosperity through federal "manifestations of a friendly attitude towards business," backed by modification of recent legislation, and careful selection of persons to fill high federal positions.

Industry Ready
"My faith has increased in the readiness of private enterprise to go ahead," George said, as he suggested reconsideration of legislation to eliminate "irritants" to business.

"I believe we are ready for a very prosperous era in our business and economic life," George added.

He said it would be an incentive for business and industry to go forward if the National Labor Relations, Wage and Hour, and Social Security Acts were modified.

Although asserting the Wage and Hour Act has established standards in some parts of the country "that is more than the traffic can bear," George said, "administration of the act thus far has been reasonable."

He added that "if the act should be given unreasonable interpretations it will destroy small business firms and increase unemployment.

Appointments Discouraging
George declined to mention names, but said "some of the recent major appointments have been definitely discouraging to business, and I do not believe they have been calculated to inspire confidence."

Newly appointed to the senate unemployment and relief committee, George said there is need for legislation reviving distribution of relief funds and the erecting of permanent barriers against politics in relief.

"I have never accepted relief as a permanent condition," he said. "This country has the resources and the capacity to absorb a great part of our unemployed and will do so if private enterprise is allowed to go ahead."

George, who defeated President Roosevelt's attempt to "purge" him from the Democratic party in the congressional elections last year, emphasized the need for permanent legislation to prevent use of relief funds for political purposes.

"Even the temptation to use funds for political ends ought to be removed," he said.

Others added to the unemployment and relief committee, which was enlarged to coordinate a relief program, included Senators Barkley (D) Kentucky, senate majority leader, Harrison (D) Mississippi, chairman of the senate finance committee, and McNary, Oregon, senate minority leader.

Ellwood Beats New Brighton

Newton Crew Windsup Out-Of-Town Games With 46-33 Victory; Ambridge Friday

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 15.—With every player being able to find the hoops, the Ellwood City high school basketball team made their last journey last night to New Brighton and returned home with a decisive 46-33 victory tucked under their belts.

Jumping to a six-point lead at the end of the first period, the Newton lads widened their lead as the game progressed and were never pressed by the Oak Hillers.

Rubino with 15 points, 7 buckets and a charity toss, turned in his best performance of the season and fine scores were also made by Ottaviani, Cunningham and Gentle. Nagy was the big shot for the losers with 14 tallies.

In the preliminary game, the Ellwood Reserves topped the New Brighton Reserves, 17 to 12. A scoreless first quarter paved the way for the Valley crew's defeat.

On Friday night the Blue and White will wind up their season at Lincoln gym when they will be hosts to Ambridge high, and it will also mark the finale for a number of the second-half varsity men.

Braeden Circle Plans Dinner For Annual Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 15.—Plans to attend the World Day of Prayer service in the First Methodist church on Friday afternoon, Feb. 24, were made by members of the Mary Braeden Circle of the Wurttemberg U. P. church on Tuesday evening when they were pleasantly received for their February meeting at the home of Mrs. Donald Hepler in Wurttemberg.

"Stewardship" was the study hour theme presented by Mrs. J. E. Caughey, with all members taking part in the interesting discussion. During the meeting conducted by Mrs. Clifford Gibbons plans were made to hold the March meeting on Tuesday evening, the seventh, in the form of a chicken dinner at the Gibbons home. An election of officers and annual reports will feature that meeting.

At the close of the evening the hostess was aided in serving a colorful valentine appointed lunch by Mrs. James Badger and Mrs. Lester Pander.

Baptist Group Valentine Tea

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 15.—One of the nicest of the Valentine Day events was a tea held in the afternoon and evening by members of Group Two of the Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church at the church parlor.

The affair was largely attended and a nice sum of money was realized for the group's goal.

Mrs. Howard Wilson and Mrs. A. E. Conner presided at the beautifully arranged tea service. Lovely flowers added beauty to the arrangements.

Mrs. Orin Barkley was in charge of the general arrangements.

Scout Week Observance Concludes With Banquet

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 15.—As a fitting and festive close of National Boy Scout week; scouts, leaders, civic clubs, executives and friends of Lawrence county joined in a highly successful banquet last evening at the Shelby auditorium which was high-lighted by a most dramatic and effective talk by Thomas J. Keane, national senior scouting executive.

Carbeau Honored
Charles Carbeau, an active industrial leader, a Boy Scout worker for a number of years, and president of the Ellwood City Scout Council, was completely surprised and most honored as he was presented with the coveted Silver Beaver award. The award is presented once each year to the outstanding scout leader in the county and is an award of merit.

On behalf of Ralph P. Davis, Louis B. Round presented the medal, which Mr. Carbeau accepted in a feeling manner pledging continued service to boyhood.

James J. McLaughlin, beloved by all scouts, affably and capably filled the role of toastmaster keeping the program progressing without delay.

Mr. Keane speaking earnest and sincerely began by saying that the finest community asset is the young people and not its industries and businesses, and only as a community takes interest in youth is its growth to be successful and happy.

The world hears so much of war and sees what one man can do, it is a question of how near that system may be developing here.

There are more boys in the Communist movement in New York than in scouting, the speaker declared and the answer to the problem is scouting.

The psychologist Hitler knew that men that had fought and knew the horrors of war could never be induced to fight again and so he appealed to youth and in Germany now every boy between the ages of 12-15 is in the Hitler youth movement and because he appealed to youth he is now dictating to the world. The same thing is true in Italy and Russia, he maintained.

Dictators Wipe Out Scouting
As soon as the dictators came into power they wiped out the scouting movement in their countries. No man can become a dictator in the United States except on the shoulders of youth, Mr. Keane declared.

This year a million boys of 12 years of age will be of scout age, and of that amount 750,000 will want to be scouts but only 300,000 will be admitted. The other group will be the other group.

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 15.—A. J. Howell, president of the Ellwood City council who appealed to I. Lamont Hughes, new state secretary of highways for safety improvements to the sidewalks of the Fifth street bridge, has received assurance from Mr. Hughes that he is having the matter investigated.

The bridge is 20 feet wide and has 5 foot sidewalks at curb level, protected on the outside by a steel railing. This rail is structurally safe for the protection of pedestrians, however, it is not designed, neither is it meant to prevent automobiles, trucks and other vehicles that may climb the curb from sustaining serious damage and disaster. In order to prevent accidents, Mr. Howell recommended a double curb similar to that used in Pittsburgh along the Boulevard of the Allies.

During the month of January, when the carway was especially slippery from ice and snow, three cars skidded into the outside railing which fortunately prevented the cars from plunging some 125 feet into the Connoquessing creek. The highways crossing the bridge, the repair work was done by the county department of highways.

There are 1000 school children who cross this bridge four times a day and about 3500 other persons, who live on the northside, and it is for their safety that the council is much concerned.

Lovely Party For Mrs. Howard Hoover

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 15.—Honoring Mrs. Howard Hoover, (Betty Book), Miss Frances Wimer delightfully entertained a circle of friends on Tuesday evening at her home, in Wurttemberg.

An announcement of the marriage of the couple which took place on Friday, January 27, in West Virginia, was just recently made by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Book, of Franklin avenue. The couple will live with the bridegroom's grandmother in Portersville.

The hours were spent in a delightful manner with a variety of games of the guests. At a late hour, the hostess was aided in serving a tempting lunch by her sister, Miss Burnzetta Wimer.

The guest of honor was presented with an array of lovely and attractive gifts for use in her new home.

Veterans Have Meeting Tuesday

V. F. W. Post Bicycle Safety Committee To Meet On Friday Evening For Conference

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 15.—Two new members were elected and obligated by the Veterans of Foreign Wars post at their regular meeting on Tuesday evening in their Fourth street hall.

Several cases of veterans in distress were reported and taken care of. It was announced that John Wilton, who has been ailing for some time in New York for treatment, and Dillon, another veteran, has been taken to a home in Columbus, O. The wife of Comrade Art is suffering from a fractured wrist.

The bicycle safety club committee reported progress and it is hoped that there will be more action toward the realization of safety regulations in the near future. The committee will meet on Friday, February 14, for a conference.

On Tuesday evening, February 28, the committee will meet again for the election of a trustee and to transact other important business.

Annual Library Report Is Given

All-Time High Record In Circulation Shown In 25th Annual Summary

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 15.—The annual report of the Public Library board by Mrs. Catherine M. Charles librarian, is announced as follows: In presenting this, the 25th annual report of the Library, it is a satisfaction to show an all-time high in circulation and a daily average of 470 volumes. This is an increase of 27 per cent over last year's circulation of 113,345 and of 4 per cent over the previous high record of 136,374 volumes in 1933.

Early in the year we reached the goal of 20,000 volumes which we had set for 1938, with 21,112 volumes on our credit at the end of the year. This is well over the A. L. A. standard of the 1½ volumes per capita, for towns of this size. Of the 2209 books added during the year, 1310 were for adult readers and 899 for children. The children's room now has 8831 volumes, the adult department 14,281, with 1071 reference volumes. In addition, there are files of 55 magazines for ten or more years and hundreds of pamphlets and clippings in vertical files.

The number of adult and juvenile borrowers is about equal, with 3106 adults and 3418 children using the library, a total of 6524 borrowers, or 54 per cent of the population of Ellwood City.

It is interesting to note that the only item showing a decrease in any one of these five year periods is that of expenditures in the period 1929-1934. This was due, not to a cut in appropriation, but to a falling off in the collection. Ours was one of the few libraries in Pennsylvania, that went through the depression without a cut in mileage.

During this same period there was an increase of 50 per cent in the book account and 67 per cent in circulation and additional space was acquired in the building, with added rent. The necessary economy in expenditure due to lowered income was confined to the administrative items in the budget and was not permitted to interfere with service to the public.

Another interesting item is the cost per circulation, with a drop from 16c in 1929 to 8.7c in 1938, which would seem to indicate that it costs less per volume to circulate 143,000 volumes than 71,000.

So many factors influence the various items in these statistics that it is difficult to make comparisons, but the figures do show that the library is continuing to make satisfactory progress.

During the year just ended the most important event was the adoption of the A. L. A. Retirement plan for all salaried members of the staff, with the library participating. This plan went into effect March 1, 1938.

With the cooperation of the Women's Club the library is again giving book service to the Ellwood City hospital, after a lapse of several years. The Club has provided a small book truck for use in the hospital and different members of the hospital committee provide transportation for the librarian and books once a week. The service is greatly appreciated by hospital staff and patients.

Venetian blinds for the west end of the building have added greatly to the appearance of the reading room and to the comfort of staff and patrons during the hot weather. New card catalog and vertical files are other improvements.

The library was represented at the Ohio valley regional conference on adult education at Pittsburgh April 21-23, the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Adult Education association in Philadelphia, October 27; the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Library at Buck Hill Falls, October 27-29, and the Four County Library club meeting at New Wilmington, November 10.

Use Of Electricity May Aid Mushroom Growth

Experiment Being Made At Mushroom Farm At Crescendale Mine

HUGE PRODUCTION MAY BE DEVELOPED

There is in Lawrence county one industry which is unable to meet the demand for its products and which, in time, may prove to be the biggest industry of its kind anywhere.

It is the mushroom industry, operated by the Lawrence County Mushroom Farm, of which Paul B. Stoops is the owner. The mushroom farm is located in an abandoned limestone mine in Crescendale, near Wampum.

To Speed Up Development
At the present time there is an urge for speeding up the growth of mushrooms and pursuant to its policy the Pennsylvania Power company, through Walter Gross, and the farm proprietor, are conducting an experiment.

In one of the 2,000 mushroom beds electric current flows through 120 feet of wire. Because of this the temperature of the "electric mushroom bed" has been stepped up to 68 degrees. The temperature of the other beds is 52 degrees.

The plan being followed by the electric company and Stoops is the same used by persons who grow a large amount of vegetables for various markets. The latter claims growth is greatly expedited by the use of electricity.

The 2,000 beds, each of which is approximately 200 square feet in size, are located in the abandoned limestone mine of 144 acres. Air in the mine is pure and the temperature ranges about 52 degrees.

The owner also has under lease another mine of 208 acres in which he plans to plant more mushroom beds, and in time the county will possess the largest mushroom industry in the world.

Last year 32,000,000 pounds were produced in the United States. When production in the mine is at its peak one and a quarter tons can be picked in one day.

Seventeen persons are employed in the underground farm. The product is shipped by trucks to Pittsburgh and Cleveland, where express trains carry the mushroom east and west.

There are 58 different varieties of mushrooms. The three varieties grown here are the Snow-White, Golden White and the Cream. The first variety, Snow-White, is sought eagerly because it contains more vitamin D.

In order to meet the demand the three kinds are grown here, and according to Stoops, the yield is two pounds to each square foot of the bed. Care in plucking must be exercised else the spawn will be injured.

The beds must be remade approximately every 10 months. One of the purposes of experimenting with the electric heated cable is that it may keep the bed heated longer than 10 months, thus adding to its length of life.

NEW CASTLE HIGH DEFEATS BEAVER FALLS 37-29

Final Home Game Taken By Locals

Ragsy Gennock, Sparks New Castle To Victory Over Valley Foes

Still Retain Lead In Section Three, Final Game Will Be With Butler

New Castle high school basketball team closed its home season in Section Three last night at the George Washington high floor by taking a 37 to 29 victory over a hard fighting Beaver Falls high quintet. The victory keeps New Castle on top of the section race. Butler high also won last night over Aliquippa 33 to 17.

Off to a shaky start in the first half, the New Castle team staged a thrilling rally in the final two periods of the game that had the visitors bewildered. Sparked by Ragsy Gennock the locals really "went to town" in the third period to outscore the Tigers 12 to 4 and take a commanding lead.

Tigers Are Out

The defeat for Beaver Falls definitely erases them from any championship consideration whatsoever. It was the eighth victory for New Castle in the Section Three title race as against three setbacks.

Beaver Falls will argue that it would have been a different story if Ragsy, the big Beaver Falls center, had not been forced out of the game in the first half by four personal fouls, but the argument is rather weak, if you saw the game and the manner in which Gennock, Bombyk, Wenda and Lauro went about the business of scoring field goals and making life miserable in general for the Beaver Fallians.

Beaver Falls Leads

Beaver Falls jumped into the lead at the start of the game when Woodski dumped in a foul try, but soon afterwards Greer on a nice play smacked in a field goal to put the locals in front 2 to 1. With six and a half minutes of the first period over, the count was 5 to 4 New Castle. With 52 seconds left to play in the stanza, it was 8 to 6 Beaver Falls. That is exactly where the count stood when the timer's gun boomed for the end of the first period. The visitors, led by young Mister Capozza, a swell little forward all right, ran the score to 12 to 6 at the outset of the second period, and things looked dark for New Castle. With four and a half minutes left in the half the visitors had the lead at 13 to 9. By the time the half was over it was New Castle out in front 17 to 15, through the efforts of young Gennock, who dumped in two field goals and a foul in the last four minutes of the period. Capozza was just as good as Gennock, making three two-pointers. Ray had to leave the game in the dying moments of the half and was replaced by Goodard.

Locals Open Up

It was in the third period that New Castle's attack began to click with the mcnosity of a machine gun. Capozza missed a foul shot for the Ransom crew and then Lauro broke for the side of the court and smacked in a honey of a shot, to put the count at 19 to 15 and this was the signal for the Bridenbaughmen to start, because for the next few minutes the local flippers played a constant tune on the hoops with sparkling shots.

Half way in the third period it was evident that New Castle had taken the starch out of the visitors and the count was 24 to 17 when the Tigers called time out with three minutes of the period to play. The end of the third period it was 29 to 19 with New Castle out in front like a smashed thumb.

Butler High Next

In the fourth and final period New Castle was content merely to protect their lead and the Tigers took the period 10 to 8. Bombyk got "hot" in the final period and turned in five points. Gennock and Lauro supplied the other three. Woodski, a fine guard, turned in four of the Beaver Falls points and Capozza five points.

New Castle will play its final game of the year at the Butler high court on the night of February 21, being idle this coming Friday night.

Bessemer Winner Over Wampum High

Last Quarter Spurt Gives Cement City Cagers 31-28 Triumph

After trailing until the last three minutes of play, Bessemer high's Section 20 title contenders managed to squeeze out a 31-28 victory over the scrappy Wampum high cagers, Tuesday night at Bessemer.

The Wampumites got off to a flying start, holding an 8-3 margin as the initial stanza ended. By halftime the Wampum lads held a 13-8 edge. Continuing to set the pace, the Wampum outfit sported a 21-15 margin, as the third period ended. As the end of the game neared, it looked like a Bessemer defeat. Finally, the count was tied 26 all. Zornich pumped in a foul followed by Calderaro who rang in a two player. Wampum came back with a field goal. Calderaro sank another field goal to give Bessemer a three point edge.

The work of Calderaro and Edwards turned apparent defeat into victory. As a result, Bessemer is still deadlocked with New Wilmington for the leadership of the section. Huffman, one of the standouts in the sectional race, annexed 11 markers for Wampum. Frank and Davis had 10 markers between them. In the preliminary game, the Bessemer Reserves sidetracked the Wampum Reserves, 35-20.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Local sport shots . . . Soon as the Lawrence County Class B. teams settle this Section 20 basketball business, they will start their annual baseball battle. . . Which reminds me that it won't be long until softballs start to fill the air again. . . Six New Castle high cagers played their final home game against Beaver Falls. . . Fred Maciarelli and Wilbur Phillips have consumed their six semesters while Ed Noga, their sheepskins in June. . . Dave Greer, the sixth, moves out of the teen age. . . The Cane camp still has plenty of valuable hardwood stock left. . .

Grid card attractive . . . That 1939 New Castle high grid schedule is about as attractive as any sport dish in Pennsylvania. While other teams play nine or ten games, the Cane will step onto the field for 11 conflicts. . . Four of the toughest gridiron schoolboy foes come in order. . . First its Warren, then Johnstown, Washington next and finally a breather—Massillon's Tigers, October 27. . . Don't sell short Beaver Falls, Youngstown East, and finally Sharon, on Turkey Day. . . Butler, Har-Brack, Grove City and Moneson complete what Broadway calls a perfect "box office" attraction. . . Baseball stuff . . . If the Boston Red Sox win the pennant this year, there's a chance that they may vote a world series share to Cleveland and Detroit. All the Yawkeymen needed was one good pitcher. ## FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL

We have been saving a little criticism for a time that was set for the story... several people have written in and asked what the rule was, concerning the operation of the traffic lights at the foot of Jefferson street hill and the top... also the top of Highland street hill. We can't say for certain but it is our opinion that when the weather turns slippery... the lights are not to operate as traffic lights but as warnings... they should just flash yellow. Every cruiser car operator should be in a position to change these lights if the occasion so arises. They were working this morning... although it wasn't too bad. You can never tell what, fool motorist, will do... and then maybe a shifter gets a hold of the story... and what have you? A case that can't be settled out of court.

Complaints have come in from residents stating that they would like to have owners of cats keep them inside at night. It seems that the old and disturbing game of cats on the fence has been revived. The police could hardly stop this racket but the cat owners could.

What a snow to take off the walks today. Heavy, heavy what goes under foot? But the real citizens of the town will perform the task with a smile... because they respect the rights of others. And when that is mentioned, we think of the great training that the Boy Scouts of America get along that line. We hope that hundreds of young boys will take up this work and carry the ideas given forth, throughout their lives. We do live in a grand and glorious country, where every American boy has the opportunity to become more than a mere living body. Where a boy can work and raise his standard of living above that of his forefathers... where a boy can create an estate that will provide for him in later years, and where a boy can speak about the things that bother him to men who have had experience without the fear that says are listening. Why should we tolerate folk who dislike these United States? But we do because this is the United States... but there will come a time to separate the right from the wrong, and we are glad we live in these United States.

It really pays you to read the classified ad page.

Price Changes Of Little Significance In Morning Trading

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Price changes were of little significance and trading was extremely light on the stock market today.

Stocks were irregularly higher at the opening following yesterday's mild reaction, but the absence of demand soon halted the upturn and leaders gradually slipped.

The excellent fourth quarter report of Chrysler, made public after the close yesterday, came up to the financial district's optimistic forecasts.

The stock, though, sold off a point on the good news, while General Motors slipped fractionally.

Emphasizing the narrow price fluctuations, the industrial average at the end of the first hour was exactly at the previous closing level. Utilities were down 0.01 and rails 0.05.

Burglar "Beaned" With Ash Tray, Then Captured

Would-Be Burglar In New York City, Former Altoona Young Man, Learns Lesson

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—A singing waiter's debut in burglary today brought him only a lump on the skull, arrest and the knowledge that a well-aimed ash tray is a far more devastating weapon than a blank cartridge.
The would-be robber, August Lola, 29 (of 1920 18th St.), Altoona, Pa., came to town yesterday and picked a second floor mid-town apartment for burglary No. 1.
A pencil flashlight in one hand and a revolver loaded with blank cartridges in the other, he forced open a parlor window over a stoop and hopped inside. Wesley Northridge, who by rights should have been the victim in this story, found himself staring into the muzzle of Lola's gun.
The former waiter picked up a $75 gold watch, a $50 silver cigarette case and $1.60 in cash. He looked around for more loot and his new career ended right there.
Northridge beamed him with an ash tray and sat on him until an ambulance surgeon from Bellevue appeared to patch Lola up and police charged him with burglary, assault and robbery and violation of the Sullivan law, regulating possession of firearms.

Several police toured different thoroughfares yesterday in search

Pay Increases Given Day Before Earle Left As Governor

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—Increases in pay were given 40 employees of the state liquor control board the day before former Gov. George H. Earle left office, Secretary Joseph Donovan revealed today.

Reclassification of the civil service status of 414 board employees resulted in a $138,000 rise yearly in the payroll, it was disclosed. Majority of changes applied to workers occupying administrative positions, chiefly in the lower salary brackets.

A spokesman for the board declared that all reclassified employees for many months had been doing the work of higher civil service classifications without receiving the salaries which accompanied those positions. Changes, it was said, resulted in "adjustments" rather than increases.

Destitute Mother Attempts Holdup In New York Subway

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The last of her husband's $3.75 WPA paycheck was gone and there was no money left to buy milk for her two sons, 10 and 7.

So, Mrs. Mary Cusack, 39, picked out a black top pistol from among the children's playthings, threw a coat over her house dress and attempted to hold up the cashier of the nearest subway station.

This was the pathetic story studied by welfare workers today pending Mrs. Cusack's arraignment. The woman cashier at the subway refused to be intimidated by the pistol and Mrs. Cusack was captured by another employee.

Four Face Trial On Assault Charge

(International News Service)
MEADVILLE, Pa., Feb. 15.—Four American Viscose Corporation workers were to go on trial today on charges that they assaulted a fellow employee, Charles C. Farrah, 35, a welder. Postponement of the case, sought by defense counsel, was denied by Judge O. Clare Kent yesterday.

Defendants are Floyd Rouchie, Robert Gilmore, Gordon Bell and Lionel Rheinhardt. They were accused of starting a fight with Farrah, allegedly calling him a "scab." The postponement was sought on a plea that two material witnesses important to the defense could not be present and that insufficient time had been given for preparation of the case.

Seek Counsel For Confessed Slayer

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 15.—A request for appointment of counsel was expected to be made in court today for Dr. Norman Stewart, 11, Wilkinsburg dentist who ended a three-year mystery this month by confessing the slaying of his wife and baby son in 1935.

His personal friend and legal adviser up to this time, Attorney C. Dick Cable, a former Pitt fraternity brother, said he would petition the court for appointment of counsel. Cable did not plan to handle the case.
Cable also disclosed that Stewart's mother, now living in Ludlow, McKean county, and his second wife—whom he wed in Florida after the double slaying—would not come here unless needed.
